Heidelberg Catechism

Synopsis

In order to promote the Christian faith in the province surrounding Heidelberg, Germany, Zacharias Ursinus was commissioned to compose this catechetical tool. The Heidelberg Catechism was written for the specific purpose of providing an "echo of the Bible"; simple enough for all people to understand. From young children to adults, read it and find out why it was considered a catechism of "unusual power and beauty." This electronic edition features an active table of contents. Customer Reviews

Something that every Christian should read and understand. Young children use to get this growing up and now we have thrown in the trash. Our society reveals the fact that we do not hold these tenants any longer. The result is growing chaos a sense of unrest in society

Excellent. Just because it's old doesn't mean it's no longer applicable. The framers of the Protestant religion put creeds and catechisms together for the purpose of helping the believer not steer away from the core, foundational truths of scripture, which is quite easy in today's world of churches approaching members as a consumer, needing to be satisfied in order to stay.

I purchased this item because it was well spoken of by Justin Holcomb in "Know the Creeds and Councils". I was not disappointed, it is clear and concise. It's divided into three parts and then into 52 "sections" for Lord's Days. I recommend it to anyone else who also struggles in their Christian walk. For instance, the sections on the Lord's Supper and the Lord's Prayer are inspiring and instructional.

This catechism is great for reading through devotionally since it is split into different Lord's Day meditations. Scripture proof would have been a welcome addition though. Overall, great value!

Very comprehensive and makes for a great study reference book to add to my library. I recommend it to anyone who want to further understand reformed church beliefs.

Broken into 52 easily read chapters. Simple explanations of the essential teachings of the Bible with focus on the ten commandments and the Lord's prayer.
